Meticulous care in the vineyard on the Bordeaux model, cellar work that avoids extremes and international consultants are the factors that make Pierluigi Tolaini's estate one of the most important operations set up recently in Chianti Classico. The wines display a well-balanced style with plenty of grip and a confidently supple flavour. Although they age mainly in small oak casks, the wood is never intrusive, instead enhancing the elegance and finesse of the wines. The estate is located in the hill country between Pianella and Vagliagli.
